

Software-Defined Networking, Extending the Value of Edge Computing

Centralized Management

Flexible Deployment

High-Efficiency Transmission

QNAP introduces software-defined and centralized management mindsets into network architecture. This helps enterprises deploy, manage, and expand network environments more rapidly, building a stable and modern network foundation that grows seamlessly with business demands.

